Participants' tone ranged from supportive to unabashedly critical during United States Rep. Ben Ray Lujan's (D-NM) Sept. 8 telephone town hall event on health care reform.

But one question surfaced over and over again: "How will this bill help me?"

A woman who only gave her name as Doreen, of Tierra Amarilla, phrased that question most specifically. Her daughter is unemployed and diabetic.

"Will this help her?" she asked of the reform proposals currently before the United State Congress.
